BACK ON DUTY . . . . The last time we saw this it was headed for the war-time scrap pile to inspire others to give their metal. We even wrote an editorial about it. Someone saved it, and the former civil war cannon which graced the Crescent Park lawn has been hauled out to clutter up the monument area near the Hickory st. bridge. We think it is grotesque and out of place. And its color is about as ugly a shade as anyone could pick. Maybe they had some traffic lines paint left over.

SLIPPERY AND ELUSIVE GOLDFISH were finally subdued by the juniors during the Father-Son swim which was conducted on Monday evening of this week in the Warren Y.M.C.A. Five fish were released by Jeff Riedel and Bob Hammerbeck into the pool and the subsequent chase lasted only twelve minutes with the chlorine-congested finned creatures becoming trophies of Don Gebhart, Bill Schumann, Bill Clark, Bob Schumann, and Charles Daugherty. For their "fishing skills", the winners received craft prizes.

PRINTZ HOT STOVER, Burdette Chapel, 13, who has been residing with his grandparents, on McPherson st., Warren, received "good-byes" from forty-five of his young friends on Thursday evening, August 25. Burdette is leaving for Riverside, California, where he will live with his mother and attend the public schools for next term. His grandmother, Mrs. Lester Akeley, and neighbors, Mrs. Irvin Kays and Mrs. Gail Mead, served the ice cream treat.

The guests presented their departing friend with a billfold as the climax to an evening around the campfire. Hopes were expressed that Burdette would return in the spring to again don the uniform of America's favorite sport.

READY SOON. With the prospects of cooler evenings in the near future, local residents may be heartened to realize that the Chalet Drive-Inn, located adjacent to the Dairy Queen on Route 62 north of Warren, will soon be serving hot snacks and lunches. The building appeared on the skyline suddenly as it was delivered intact and placed on a previously-prepared foundation.

NEW PASTOR AT CALVARY BAPTIST. The Rev. Paul Obinger has assumed the duties of pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, Warren, and with his family was honored with a reception on Thursday evening of last week. The new pastor comes to our community from the Edgewater Baptist church, Chicago. He is a native of Minnesota.

In the picture with Rev. Obinger are his wife and son, Ben. Another son, Paul, Jr., is in the armed services. Two daughters, Sharon Lynn and Ariel, are attending Bethel College, St. Paul, Minnesota. Another resident of the manse is Mrs. Quist, Mrs. Obinger's mother.

INFLAMMABLE

Four New York City firms have been charged with importing and selling dangerously flammable silk scarves from Japan. They are Herzman Scarves, Inc., Waldbaum, Cipes, Inc., Rit-Zie Novelty Co., Inc., and Victor B. Handal and Bro., Inc. The charge says that the scarves were so highly flammable as to be dangerous when worn by individuals.

AFFECTING YOUR HEALTH

We believe one of the most important functions of the Federal Trade Commission is the policing of claims made by those who sell products which are supposed to result in better health. If they are not as advertised, much valuable time is lost by those who could be obtaining proper treatment, and also much valuable money that could be applied to helpful medicine or care.

For this reason we are listing a few of the products and manufacturers so charged by the FTC.

Poundex, despite claims by the Turner Smith Drug Co., will not have the weight-increasing properties you read about unless limited to cases of poor appetite or bad eating habits.

Talika Eye Lash Creme will not grow long, lustrous lashes, as advertised.

Super-Nutriway vitamin tablets are not fresher and more nutritious than other vitamins and do not contain 35 elements to protect health, says the FTC. In fact, the need in human nutrition for 16 elements has not been affirmatively established.

The Weatherzone Portable Air Conditioner is not a true air conditioner, capable of simultaneously controlling temperature, humidity, and air circulation, says the government commission.

CARRY CAUTION WITH YOU

on that long week-end trip

The long Labor Day weekend is the last big holiday opportunity of the summer season. If you and your family are planning a trip, pack an extra supply of clear-headed caution for every mile of the way, and share it with every fellow driver on the road. That's the best way to guarantee a safe, happy weekend, and many more to come.

Autrey's Minerals have been falsely represented as a cure for muscular aches, colds, sinus trouble, rheumatic pains, and diseases due to mineral deficiencies.

The value of Tenilhist as a cough syrup and Tenilhist Throat Lozenges as treatment for the common cold is questioned, and the makers have agreed to stop making such claims.

Nucoa margarine is not a dairy product as much of its cleverly worded advertising would infer, says the FTC.

A long list of claims concerning the value of Yo-Zyme and Vinol Tonic are not true, says the FTC. Better check if you are counting on one of them to cure your digestive troubles, or strengthen your liver.

Exaggerated claims for its power to relieve or cure suffering are found in advertising for Kary-On, a vitamin mineral supplement.

The FTC says that Demineralizers will not produce chemically pure water, distilled water, or water chemically equivalent or superior to distilled water. The makers have agreed to stop saying so.

MORE INSURANCE

The number of insurance companies claimed to be making false claims about their health policies now numbers thirty-one. The additional three are Inter-Ocean Insurance Co., of Cincinnati, Washington National Insurance Co., of Evanston, Ill., and Craftsman Insurance Co., of Boston.

PREPROCESSED OIL

The Salyer Refining Company, of Oklahoma City, has claimed that its Stay Ready and Aeroil motor oils are advertised as further refined and that they are as good as any oil refined or sold. This statement is made in answer to the FTC which has charged it with failing to disclose that its oil is reprocessed crank case drainings or used lubricating oil sold in cans similar to those used for fresh oil.

SEX WITHOUT FEAR?

The Medical Research Press has been ordered to stop claiming that its book, Sex Without Fear, is the only one of its kind which is ethically distributed through ministers, physicians, and marriage counselors.

PHOTOGRAPHIC RACKET

The Westbrook Studio, of Wiloughby, Ohio, is charged with using its alleged contest, The Child of the Year, as a scheme to sell photographs. Contrary to the claims it makes in direct mailing pieces, the studio is not conducting a contest, the child selected will not be featured in a series of newspaper and magazine ads, the child will not be paid for posing for ads, will not receive a model contract, and each entrant probably will not be given a dollar.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS

The Garden Under Glass, advertised by Novel Manufacturing and Distributing Co., Inc., of New York, is a center piece that does not contain real flowers and is not sold at a sale price, says the FTC. Most of the flowers are plastic, the price is the regular one, and the "sale" is a continuous offer.

ROADSIDE REST - On Rte. 62, a couple miles above Tidioute, the Penna. Dept. of Highways has constructed a roadside rest for the convenience of the traveling public. A number of these have been built throughout Pennsylvania and many more are planned as part of the highway program. $5500 was allotted for this one, the only one of its kind in Warren county. Highway officials hope to be able to construct a similar one next year in another section of the county. This picture shows part of the parking area.

The Candell family of Niles, Ohio, stopped to stretch their legs and eat a picnic lunch before continuing their vacation trip. One tourist from Arizona described the roadside rest as "an oasis in the desert".

PICNIC AREA - Above the parking lot, a shelter, fireplaces and eight sturdy picnic tables have been erected. Clean rest room facilities are housed below the parking area on the opposite side from the picnic tables and shelter. The public is invited and urged, by the Highway Dept., to use the facilities of the roadside rest.

SHELTER - In the inviting shade of the picnic area, overlooking the Allegheny River, this shelter stands. A couple flips of the pump handle and you have a drink of cool, pure spring water. A registry book lists travelers from as far away as Nome, Alaska. Alongside the names and addresses are such comments as "A wonderful spot to stop", "A boon to travelers", "There should be more of these places", and "Thanks for providing such a nice, clean place". Pictured in the shelter is John Mansfield, of Tidioute, caretaker.

In a matter of minutes, a hot charcoal fire can be ready to sizzle a steak and brew a pot of coffee. Several of these stone fireplaces are located throughout the picnic area.

In Brief

A WARM-HEARTED WARREN COUNTY responded magnificently to the appeal for emergency funds to aid the flood-stricken northeastern states which was voiced by Ralph E. Sires, county chairman. Wednesday afternoon, Red Cross officials reported that nearly $3,500 had been received and the end was not yet in sight. The Quota for our county, assigned by national headquarters, was $1,375.

SURPLUS FOOD REGISTRATIONS appear to be going down according to first reports from last week's listings as reported by C. P. DeLong, Warren County coordinator. The advance trend was indicated by the first six of the anticipated fourteen responses.

A CONTROVERSIAL VACATION CLAUSE and group insurance has been the most important matters discussed by representatives of DeLuxe Metal Manufacturing Co. and U. E. Union. The most recent meeting was held Tuesday in an effort to negotiate a new contract. Various proposals have been forwarded to improve hospital benefits under the group insurance plan. Both sides agreed to study the vacation clause further before making final decisions.

WARREN SCHOOL LUNCHES will cost thirty cents and milk tickets will be sold five for a quart as long as the milk subsidy continues, according to a report released by the Warren school board after last week's meeting. Master's degrees have been received by Alice Anderson, Lacy principal; Violet Merchant, fourth grade; McClintock; Marie Gaghan, second grade; Jefferson; and Bertha Nelson, second grade, McClintock, received her baccalaureate degree. Approval was granted the TB association to give patch tests to elementary students.

William Smith was employed as janitor for McClintock. Resignations were accepted from Joe Spence, art supervisor; June McCue, East first grade; Jane Cowan, McClintock third grade; Mrs. Betty Bowman, Lacy third grade. Mrs. Avonell Tourtellott and Mrs. Evelyn Genberg were employed to teach fourth grade at Jefferson and third grade at McClintock, respectively.

ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD SOON for new community and county committeemen, according to information received from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. O. C. Tritt, Ralph Eckert, Francis Artley, and D. VanOrsdale, Pomona Grange master, are serving as the nominating committee and shall present a slate of ten for each of the five communities in Warren County - Columbus and Spring Creek, Freehold and Sugar Grove, Farmington and Pine Grove; Youngsville-Pittsfield - Grand Valley; and Elk-Kinzua-Warren. Three will be elected in each community with every farmer entitled to vote. The community committeemen will then convene and select the county organization.

DAMAGES TOTALING $1800 resulted from a one-car accident which occurred at 12:20 a. m., Friday, August 26, on Route 62 near Akeley. Albert Suckow, of Warren, Ohio, rolled his auto over and was treated by a Frewsburg doctor for a fractured left arm and lacerations.

ONE WAS ADMITTED TO WARREN GENERAL hospital as the result of an accident in Tiona on Route 6, on August 26. Chalmer Spencer, of Houtsdale, Pa., traveling east, started to pass another vehicle, saw he couldn't make it because of oncoming traffic, pulled back into the right-hand lane, lost control of the car and overturned. He received treatments for deep lacerations.

TWO MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPED-serious injuries when their car struck a tree on Route 6, two miles west of Youngsville, late on the evening of Friday, August 26. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Anthony, of Pittsfield, were both admitted to Warren General Hospital but have since been discharged. The car, which suffered total damages of $800, was wrapped so tightly around the tree that it had to be cut away with a torch.

SERIOUS INJURIES to Fred L. McGee and Mrs. Anna McGee resulted from an accident which occurred at the junction of Routes 27 and 77 at 10:30 p. m., Sunday, August 28. Milton Hawley, of Corry, traveling west, overtook and rammed the rear of the slowly moving McGee machine. Damages totaled $1,000 and Hawley, with minor injuries, was treated at the hospital and discharged.

A $1,000 SCHOLARSHIP and membership in America's famed Apollo Boys' Choir of Palm Beach, Fla. has been awarded to Victor Rice, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rice, 3 Conewango pl., Warren, after seven weeks of summer school and auditions. The Apollo's summer school is located in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Asheville, N. C. The Warren Boy Choir member has received private vocal instructions from Byron Swanson in the Warren Conservatory of Music. He is motoring to Palm Beach with his mother and will register there on September 6.

A FULL SCHEDULE OF "Y" ACTIVITIES are being carried out this week to complete the summer program. Father-son, mother-daughter and family swims have been conducted. Interesting skill contests and group games were enjoyed throughout the week.

A STATE POLICE ESCORT was arranged for the truck convoy which transported the equipment of the National Guard from Indian-town Gap Military Reservation to Erie with different personnel participating at the county lines. The quick trip brought the truck into Warren at 3:30 p. m., well ahead of schedule.

Two busses brought the Warren County men home on Saturday afternoon after two weeks of intensive training during which time the 112th Infantry Regiment received the highest rating at the camp. Range firing with both individual and crew served weapons, squad and patrol tactics, an overnight bivouac and the "best ever" Governor's Day review were a few of the highlights. Company I will soon start an intensive recruiting campaign to reach the full reduced strength of 165 enlisted men and 6 officers.

SIXTEEN EXPLORERS AND LEADERS from this area attended the Order of the Arrow meeting at Camp Sequoyah with nearly 400 other Scouts last week end. The local contingent won first place in the campfire contest when a barbershop quartet composed of Don Kirk and Lee Thompson, of Youngsville, and Stan Lindberg and Tom McCune, of Warren, entertained. Jim Wright, of Warren, was appointed vice chief of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Area.

SIX ANIMALS FROM WARREN COUNTY were entered in the Tenth Annual Northwestern Pennsylvania 4-H District Dairy Show which was held on August 30 on the Crawford County Fair Grounds, Meadville, with eleven counties participating. Nancy, Amy, and Leslie Curtis showed Jerseys in the grand champion. Gale Johnson, of Bear Lake, and Richard Trisket, of Columbus, showed Gurnsey and Holstein, respectively.

A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE U. S. NAVY recruiting service will be at the post office in Sheffield on Monday at 11 a. m. and in Tidioute on Wednesday at 11 a. m. to interview applicants and accept applications from young men and women interested in enlisting in the United States Navy. For other appointments see or call Navy Recruiter in the Post Office building in Warren, phone 786.

Comedy and Drama Debut Sept. 10

SATURDAY night television on WBEN-TV will be brightened Sept. 10 with the premiere of two new shows. CBS Television's comedy series, It's Always Jan, bows in at 9:30 o'clock followed by the adult western drama, Gunsmoke, at 10 o'clock.

It's Always Jan stars lovely Janis Paige in a delightful situation comedy about the trials and troubles of several young business women sharing a New York apartment. Miss Paige plays Janis Stewart, a successful nightclub singer, who shares the apartment with two secretary-friends.

Gunsmoke, which will follow at 10 Saturday night on Channel 4, is the widely-acclaimed CBS Radio series now on WBEN each Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. In the TV version, James Arness portrays U. S. Marshal Matt Dillon, Amanda Blake is Kitty the cafe hostess, Denis Weaver is Cheater, Dillon's sidekick, and Milburn Stone is Doc, lovable town character.

Saturday Playhouse

Here's a preview of what's in store on WBEN-TV's Saturday Night Playhouse at 11:30 o'clock for the remaining weeks of September: Rod Cameron and Gale Storm in "Stampede," Sept. 10; Lee Bowman and Lon Chaney in "There's a Girl in My Heart," Sept. 17; and Barry Sullivan and Broderick Crawford in "Badmen of Tombstone," Sept. 24.

The hands that built America will keep it strong and free

The skill of American workers, coupled always with the latest and best in techniques and equipment, have built in America the world's greatest industrial power.

American workers produce more, earn more, have more, enjoy more than their fellows anywhere else in the world.

On Labor Day, we salute American workers . . . for the part they have played in America's past . . . for the promise they hold for America's future security and freedom.

WARREN PLAYERS CLUB announces that Florence Meadows will direct the first play of the 1955-56 season. "The Moon Is Blue," a fast-moving modern comedy of a most unconventional twenty-four hours in the life of a New York architect, will be presented on Thursday, October 13 and Friday, October 14.

Mrs. Meadows has appeared in leading roles in Players Club productions of the "Hetress" and "Suspect" as well as directing the Workshop radio series last season. She has been active in the Little Theatre movement in Long Beach, California; Lake Forest, Illinois, and at the University of Chicago.

Lois Muir, who will produce "The Moon Is Blue", is well known in Warren for her acting, directing, and producing abilities.

Tryouts are being held this week in the Jefferson Room of the Public Library between 7 and 9 p. m. on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The cast consists of one woman and three men -- the pert, young model-actress, who gaily maneuvers the plot from one hilarious sequence to the next; the confused bachelor-architect, whose life and apartment are most heavily involved in the maneuvering; the 40ish man-about-town, who rakishly complicates the romance; and the hot-tempered, fist-swinging Irish cop, father of the girl, who nearly ruins the romance.

Observations

THAT NEW SCHOOL

A school year will start in the Warren area next week, and still unsettled is the question concerning a new high school . . . to build a new one or remodel the old. The answer to us is very obvious, but we are not making the decision. That is for the public to decide.

For this reason it puzzles us that the PTA, Pre-School Mothers Clubs, and other civic groups are not giving this subject far more attention than is the case. Though the high school does not have a PTA, a major reason for building a new one, or for remodeling the old one, is an expanding school population in the lower grades. Soon they will be crowding our antique structure at Second and Market.

These are the people who should be considering the problem as a part of their routine business and they are the ones who should be fully informed on the situation. Some of this information must be obtained from the joint committee which has figures that have not been revealed to the public. These figures are the ones provided by two firms of architects who were asked to estimate the comparative costs of building a new school and remodeling the old one. They also were asked to make recommendations. These figures and recommendations were given to the joint committee about six months ago.

We have been told by one prominent board member that the cost of a new high school might go as high as two million dollars. If this is the approximate figure we see no reason for alarm. We assume that the state will continue to help in this work, which brings that cost down to a million dollars for the local taxing group.

If an authority is created and bonds sold, the annual cost at three per cent would be about $51 per thousand. Spread over all of the districts in the jointure that isn't a very frightening figure. In fact the average property owner would be charged a very few dollars a year to provide the best and latest in high school facilities. We know taxpayers whose added cost would be about two dollars. Those whose taxes run around $150 would pay about $4. And the big boy who has a large plant might see his bill go up $300. He can afford it. In fact, the federal government will pay about half of that $300 through income deductions.

There is some talk about remodeling the old school. An authority to which the joint committee referred stated that a remodeling job never should be done if the result would total two-thirds or more of the cost of a new building and unless the result would be equally as good as a new one.

To remodel the old high school and come up with a result as good as a properly built new one would be impossible at two-thirds of the cost. And any architect who says otherwise is limited in vision! Take a close look at the circumstances and you will agree.

To have a really modern school, justifying its expense, you must have plenty of land for future expansion, athletic facilities, and for parking. It should not be close to an already heavy traffic problem and the dangers attendant thereto.

Add to the cost of remodeling our old high school the cost of buying sufficient property in this very high priced neighborhood to provide an athletic field and sufficient parking for any event which might be held within so functional a building. The two-thirds will melt away mighty fast and you still will be smack in the center of a dangerous traffic problem.

And let us not forget that to build a high school and not to include adequate auditorium facilities and a swimming pool, the cost of which could be greatly reduced by a drive for contributions, would be a major mistake. These facilities also demand room and parking space.

If we were building a new community today we would be enthusiastic about it and we would be doing it because we would want to live in a community with its advantages. We would sit down as citizens on various committees and we would decide how we were going to have fire protection, police, adequate streets, water, fuel, sanitation, and certainly the best in the way of education. Education would be one of our main reasons for teaming up as a community.

If we could do this as a new community, what is to stop us as a well established, wealthy area from having the very best that is necessary for the proper education of our young people?

If we have any real faith in our community; if we have real faith in our businessmen, our residents, our working men; if we have a will to do those things we know the community needs, there is nothing we cannot do as a community or as an area.

When we look at a picture which appeared in the August 11 issue of the Warren Observer, showing a swimming pool that had been built by the hands of a man who wanted such a facility in his own backyard, it certainly makes a community of 15,000 people appear a little ridiculous. Because if we really wanted such things as swimming pools, wanted them enough to get out as a group and do something about it, there is no reason why Warren couldn't have any facility.

And if as a community of 15,000 people, plus those who live in the neighboring townships, we want a real modern, up-to-date high school there is no reason why we cannot have one.

A little imagination, a little confidence in our future, a little willingness to sacrifice and to sweat a little bit, work a little bit, pay a little bit, will get us anything we want of a community nature.

But it is not enough for an editor to pound out these words on paper. It is not enough for readers to scan these paragraphs and say, "Yes, I think that's right", and perhaps for some of them to call on the phone and say, "I liked your editorial and I think you are right." It is not enough for these things to be done. The enough will come when the people who read, and the people who think, and the people who approve, make positive steps toward doing something as a community. On that day Warren will have a new birth of progress.

The Pope And Peace

By Marquis Childs

VATICAN CITY. -- Through all the alarms of the cold war when often it seemed that another global conflict was inevitable one voice has spoken out unflinching and unceasingly for peace. The pronouncements of Pope Pius XII during the 16 years of his pontificate stress on almost every occasion the desperate urgency of the need to find a way to peace.

When the whole story of the struggle for peace is written the Pope's words broadcast to the world again and again will be shown to have weighed heavily in the balance on the side of a peace negotiated with full realization of the total destruction of modern war. From the appeals he made on the eve of the outbreak of World War II down to the present moment he has condemned mankind's recourse to war insisting that those who resorted to it could not escape the burden of individual guilt for the incalculable loss and suffering inflicted on humanity.

In his Christmas message of 1941 he spoke of the need when the war should end to impose a progressive limitation on armaments and on the production and possession of offensive weapons. Earlier he developed the theme he has constantly reiterated which is in essence the concept of the United Nations. This is the conviction that all nations are members of "one large human family to be guided by the principles of justice, legality, equity and charity and by mutual pacts that are to be respected with the conviction that true patriotism consists not in denying the rights of other nations but in participating for the greater common good in the family of nations in which each one has a contribution to make and a place of honor."

In 1951 when the cold war was at a peak of intensity the Pope declared that the church would not take sides in the struggle. His declaration was obviously in response to great pressure to take an active part in the conflict that during the previous 12 months had seemed certain to erupt into a hot war. But in his Christmas message he said that those who wanted to make the church "their ally or the instrument of their political alliances" would "bring her down to the same level on which conflicting temporal interests are locked in struggle."

Again and again the Pope has condemned the materialism of both the East and the West. He has warned, too, of the dangers of reviving nationalism and the threat to peace inherent in the "nationalistic state." As an alternative he has urged European unity putting special emphasis on this in 1953 when there still seemed a hope that the European Union would be ratified.

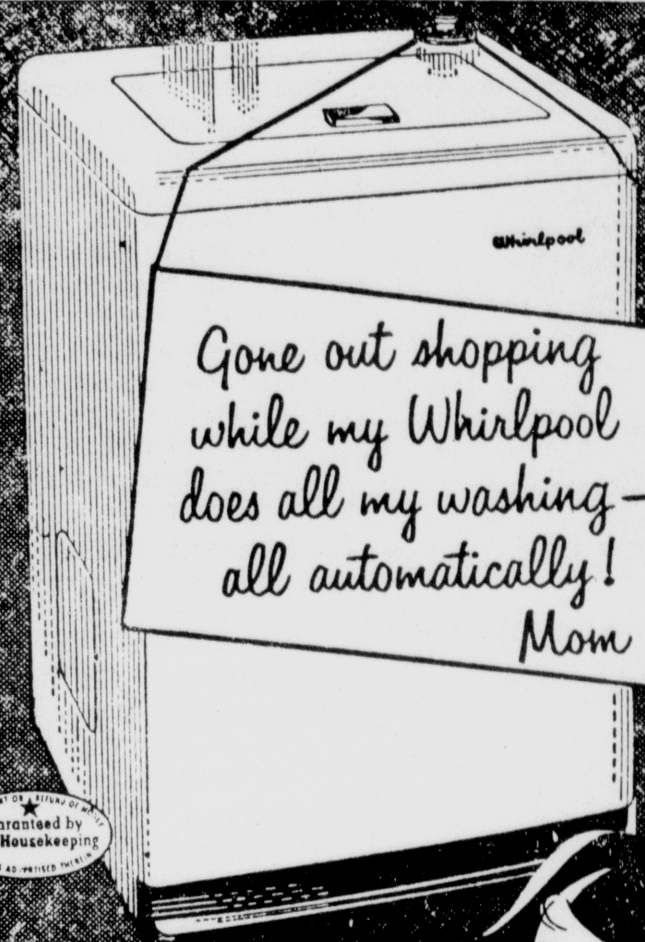

A passage in the long Christmas message of 1948 sums up the Pope's convictions on the responsibility of the individual: "A convinced Christian cannot confine himself with an easy and egotistical isolationism when he witnesses the needs and the misery of his brothers; when pleas for help come to him from those in economic distress; when he knows the aspirations of the working classes for more normal and just conditions of life; when he is aware of the abuses of an economic system which puts money above social obligations; when he is not ignorant of the aberrations of an intransigent nationalism which denies or spurns the common bonds linking the separate nations together and imposing on each one of them many and varied duties toward the great family of nations."

Those close to the Pope say that he has never abandoned hope even in the darkest hours of the cold war. While he has not commented directly on the summit meeting at Geneva and the renewed hope of peace it has brought, the Vatican Secretary of State has referred reporters to passages from the last Christmas message in which the Pope confirmed his view of war as an immoral act resting on the consciences of those who resort to it.

In a front page editorial just before the conference began the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano hailed the summit meeting as an important first step toward ending the cold war and fulfilling the desires of mankind for a rebirth of true peace. The newspaper said that the Pope had received the "greatest satisfaction" from the very fact the conference was taking place at all.

The story has often been told of how Stalin at a wartime conference when reference was made to the views of the Vatican asked how many divisions the Pope had. In the words the Pope has spoken again and again across the years there is a power of which the Russian dictator could have had no comprehension whatsoever.

County 4-H Round-Up Promotes Participation

Just one quick trip through the displays in Youngsville high school and a few minutes spent in the assembly period would be sufficient to encourage any girl to join a 4-H club next summer. Approximately 200 members from fifteen clubs distributed throughout Warren County displayed their accomplishments and exchanged ideas at the one-day meeting held Wednesday, August 24.

Girls between the ages of 10 and 21, in minimum groups of ten members, may choose interesting projects from the imposing list of twenty-one which includes two in child care, outdoor cooking, six in foods, party time, when you step out, five in clothing, and many others. To activate a local group, the girls should find a willing leader, contact Mrs. Geraldine Johnston in the Agricultural Extension office (phone Warren 2561) in March or April, then by majority vote select the particular project they desire to pursue. No fees are required and the only costs are dictated by the materials which are required.

Additional inducements, if more are needed, include the opportunity of attending 4-H summer camp which is held at Camp Forest during the latter part of July for four days at a cost of $7.50 per member. During the first part of August, for a fee of $12.75, a girl may attend Club Week at The Pennsylvania State University.

OUTDOOR COOKING SKILLS were mastered by thirty members of the Chandlers Valley 4-H club and their display was arranged attractively in the home economics department of Youngsville high school. The club boasts almost 100% attendance, their group is the largest in Warren County, because the leaders have promised an extensive trip to those who stick it out. Their float won a prize in the Warren Fourth of July parade.

In the picture, Nancy Morley and Mary Jo Cronmiller (left and right) of Sheffield examine the nature specimens and hand-made cooking utensils which the northern area girls gathered.

BLACK COWS, ham spread, and egg salad was prepared by these girls in the snack club of the 4-H's who held their annual round-up in Youngsville high school on Wednesday. This club which specialized in the teen-agers delight was composed of the following ladies from Columbus (left to right) ROW I: Gloria Hopkins, Norma Jean Kirin, Diana Schramling, Lois Pitt, Jane Bailey, Linda Tressler, Judith Gentilman. ROW II: Amy Curtis, Judy Raymond, Ardith Bull, Nancy Curtis, Janice Trisket, Mary Lou Small.

After the girls' display was judged, they ate it! Nancy Curtis baked the attractive lamb cake and received the judge's compliments for the practical center piece -- one you can eat. By the way, black cows are made with root beer and vanilla ice cream.

WEARING THEIR ACCOMPLISHMENTS. Now here is something practical and conservative which should aid the family's budget. This group of girls has just completed a clothing project during which time they made articles for the competition at the annual round-up. Skirts, blouses, and dresses which equaled the best of ready-made apparel were worn proudly by the little seamstresses.

HUNTING HELPED BY FEDERAL AID

During the federal fiscal year ending June 30, 1955, many wildlife habitat improvements were accomplished in Pennsylvania through the use of Pittman-Robertson funds. This program is financed by an 11% Federal Excise Tax on sporting arms and ammunition. After approval of state-recommended projects federal funds are provided to reimburse a state to the extent of 75% of the costs within the amount allotted. Of the $445,109.32 (100%) authorized for Game Commission use on land utilization work in the last fiscal year the Commission used $333,831.99, or all of its 75% in March, for projects under the program in Pennsylvania. Unfinished projects were continued until June 30 through the use of monies from the State Game Fund.

The state's P-R Wildlife Restoration Program during the last fiscal year comprised items of value to the hunters and trappers of Pennsylvania too numerous and varied to describe completely here. These projects, largely food and cover, were administered however on State Game Lands, Cooperative Farm Game Projects, the Allegheny National Forest, the Loyalhanna and Conemaugh Flood control areas, and many Rabbit Farms and other areas leased by the Commission. These endeavors required an outlay for per diem labor, seedlings, seed, lime, fertilizer, and other services and materials supplied through this cooperative federal-state program.

The following will partly indicate the diversity and extent of the Game Commission's P-R program last year. On State Game Lands and federal or leased lands, excepting Farm Game Projects: 181 game food strips were cleared on a total of nearly 250 acres; almost 1500 foot strips were planted for a total of over 2500 acres; cover crops seeded on 966 food strips totaled some 1500 acres; fields mowed to improve sod and nesting cover totaled nearly 4300 acres; fields limed or fertilized came to more than 1100 acres; woodland borders cut to allow sunlight to produce natural food and cover for wildlife were made on over 438,000 linear feet of edge that averaged 46 feet in width, for a total of about 470 acres; share-crop farmers planted over 1400 acres on State Game Lands, leaving 29 acres of grain standing for wildlife; share-croppers turned back to the Commission over 8000 bushels of grain and 10 bushels of timothy seed also.

Seedlings and transplants planted on these lands were evergreens, lespedeza, chestnuts, multiflora rose and others. They totaled almost 900,000 plants beneficial to wildlife. Shrubs and vines pruned or freed of competitive growths to allow greater fruiting numbered over 19,000. Similar practices were carried out extensively on Farm Game Projects over the state.

The Howard Nursery, under Game

Commission lease in connection with this program, raised and shipped 1,150,450 shrub seedlings to Commission personnel and sportsmen's groups, largely.

Research activities also pursued under the Pittman-Robertson program last year were of such variety and scope they will require a separate article later.

Six marsh areas impounding 52 acres of water in all were completed under Pennsylvania's small marsh for wild waterfowl project. Others are being constructed or are in the planning stage. A special project, the Conneaut Marsh Dam, impounding 550 acres on State Game Lands in Crawford County, was completed last year with federal funds of $18,135.94 -- money over and above the land utilization allotment named in the first paragraph.

The Pittman-Robertson plan for this state is long-range. Much of the work will show results by the improvement of hunting and trapping conditions as time goes on.

EMERGENCY WILDLIFE FEEDING

It may be that some persons still assume that supplemental wildlife feeding during winter months is a program left to chance. Such is not the case in Pennsylvania. Even as Game Commission employees prepared the soil and planted crops on State Game Lands this spring they thought ahead and planned emergency game feeding supplies for the coming winter.

Surplus grains harvested from the many Game Lands food strips are stored and later distributed to provide food for wildlife during severe winter periods, or when natural foods are in short supply. Last winter over 21,000 bushels from these harvested crops were placed in feeders by Commission employees, sportsmen, farmers and Boy Scouts.

In addition to these surplus crops over 41,000 bushels of grain, mostly corn, were purchased from farmers and seed merchants to provide emergency food for wildlife, principally wild turkeys, in forested areas and on marginal farms. The more than 62,000 bushels of corn and other grains were utilized by many species of wildlife, and should help assure a supply of game for the coming hunting seasons.

In addition, over 77,000 pounds of block and rock salt were placed in small quantities in remote areas in late winter and spring to complete the diet requirements of deer.

As can be seen, grains raised or purchased by the Game Commission were used to good advantage in past winters. Right now, the food requirements of game during the critical months of next winter are being assessed by state wildlife men accustomed to watch out for wildlife's welfare and the interests of the sportsmen.

DEER GOES UNDERGROUND

A Tioga County Game Protector, James A. Osman, reports: "Louis Tickner, R. D. Mansfield, was awakened one night recently by the barking of his collie. Unable to silence the dog he dressed and took a flashlight to investigate. He found the dog barking into a highway drainage pipe, which was about 30 feet long and 2 feet in diameter. Tickner threw his light into the pipe, expecting to find a small animal hiding there. About 10 feet inside the pipe was a doe deer. He finally succeeded in driving the deer the remainder of the way through the pipe. She fled to the nearby woods."

CANDY "ON THE HOUSE"

Game Protector Billy A. Drasher, Schuylkill County, tells this incident. "A gray squirrel with a sweet tooth recently caused a commotion at the Atlas Powder Company, Reynoldsdale. The Company has a candy vending machine on the premises. Finding one of the machines empty, workmen reported it to the vending company. When the machine was opened a gray squirrel was found inside. The animal had consumed one entire row of candy bars and in the process had become too fat to escape the way he entered."

SCORE . . . It was only practice and very unofficial but the Observer photographer had to get tuned up for those scores he hopes to be snapping when the Dragons cross that final stripe this fall. Here someone bores across.

EASY DOES IT . . . Ever try swimming with a spoon in your mouth and an egg balanced on the spoon? Do this while you race with several others doing the same and the fun starts. At the end of the pool you come to a team-mate and she must take the egg from you, place it in her spoon and take off for the finish line at the far end. Here we see it happening during the swimming meet held at the Conewango Valley Country Club, Sunday.

LOOK OUT, BELOW . . . Down comes a ten-year-old diver in the contest for those not exceeding that age. The girls also got into the diving exhibition Sunday during the Conewango Valley Country Club swimming meet. Several pictures on this page show the youngsters doing forward and other dives of their individual choice.

» Play Time «

Drama TV Radio Music Reading Hobbies

This isn't such a bad time of the year, despite the thought of summer ending and the green mountains fading into winter's bleakness. In between the green and the bleakness there is much color.

Refuting the claim that baseball is America's sport, are a few million who will heartily disagree when the pigskin starts to thump, the colorful crowds gather, and several undefeated winning streaks become the topic of every bull session. The Warren Players will start their productions, the Junior Chamber of Commerce music series will begin, the world series will be played, bowling leagues will open fire, and you can name many other favorite pastimes which enter the schedule of most people during the fall season.

The first production of the Warren Players will be "The Moon Is Blue", with Mrs. Florence Meadows directing. There was some thought of presenting the "Tender Trap", which soon may be made into a movie, but we are told this idea fizzled.

This also is fair time, and there is much pleasure in this type of entertainment, though fairs have become little more than glorified carnivals with a local flavor. But there still is a touch of the old fair to be found in such events as the horse-pulling contest and the poultry competition.

The Youngsville fair started yesterday and runs through Saturday. You can see the horses battle it out Friday afternoon, starting at two. A modern farm slant can be seen Saturday at three when a tractor driving contest will be held with two classes, thirteen and under, and thirteen to eighteen years.

Early in October the Junior Chamber of Commerce will present its opening concert, October 13, and the Community Council PTA will present a children's play on October 11. Both of these will be in Beatty auditorium.

This Beatty auditorium is going to make possible a greater participation and larger audiences in many fall and winter events. Those who claim we do not need a much larger auditorium soon will learn that the Beatty seats are far from adequate. As people learn more seats are available . . . comfortable seats . . . interest will increase and we will be back where we are now. We believe this could happen in Warren up to 1500 seats, and maybe to two thousand.

BLUMP, UHHH, THUD!!

Much hard breathing, sweating, and bone-jarring physical contact now can be found on the practice fields of the area's high school football teams. In each case the squad looks husky, willing, and hopeful of a big season. And in each case we believe a good season is in prospect.

We watched Youngsville scrimmage under the drive of a new coach last week, and if the Eagles can master the T, they will move that ball. Sheffield has some weight despite the size of the school and again should be tough to stop. We haven't seen Northern Area, but considering how well the Northern boys have done in their first years of introducing a new sport, it follows that they will do even better this fall.

Warren could be very tough. It has lost some outstanding boys, such as Viola who was a power on defense, and Mahaffey who was a hard running, hard hitting backfield man. But always there is a boy here or there hustling to make good, and in those yearlings of last year we see some promise. In fact enough promise to make a few who have been around awhile hustle to stay around.

In the early season work-outs the backfield has been Don Mohny at left halfback, Jack Shattuck at full, Carl Greco at wingback, and Jim Shafer at quarter. Dave Fitzgerald and John Sirianni are scrapping for the center job, Willard Foley, Jim Whitmire, John Salerno, and Curtis Jenkins are scrambling for guard spots, Walter Kibbey is one tackle but the other position is wide open. Mike Shanshala still is at end, and John Powley is after the spot left open when Shafer was moved into quarter.

There are some other good youngsters, with beef, speed, and willingness to dish it out, who will push these boys. Defensively, Tom Laurent looked good last year, and will see action once his leg gets well. Nothing serious, they report.

How successful any team is depends not so much on the team as what the opponents come up with. A school can have the best it ever had, and still not have a great season, due to a combination of bad breaks and outstanding squads enjoyed by its opponents. Some of Warren's greatest teams did not go undefeated, due to equally great opposition and the bounce of that little ball.

This year it will go to Corry for the opener on September 9. Corry had no better team than Warren the past two seasons, but still won the openers. Corry was better on those dates, fielding a team that looked as though it had been conditioning for half a season. We think Warren was far better than the Beavers at mid season, but that never can be proved.

However, no matter the system used to condition, the Corry eleven gives the Warren club a good, bruising opener, and drives home the fact that this is football, and to win it you must be bruising, tough, and willing to absorb physical pounding. They go on from there with a new look in their eyes, if they want to make the team.

We believe this year's team, if it works and comes along as it should, can give some old enemies, such as Bradford, a very rough time. A look at the schedule suggests that it quite probably will win over half its games. To do much better than that it will have to be great. And that is very much up to the boys . . . through training, listening with open minds, and the will to win.

The coaches can't play it for them. They only can instruct. If the boys want to learn and apply, they may look like a team. If they do it their way, something less than a football team is apt to result.

Brains, condition, alertness, hustle, drive, scrap, blind fury, team play, a burning desire to knock down and climb over anything that gets in the way, and the ability to accept and shake off pain combine to provide material pleasing to those who want winning football teams.

We see beef and speed on the county gridirons. Perhaps they will be welded into victorious teams. Trouble is, there are some guys over in the next county with the same idea.

ASIDES

POLICE ARE LOOKING for Franklin Douglas Graham, age 25, of Union City, for the theft of a car from Columbus and a burglary in that community. He has not been identified as the Tidioute bank robber, contrary to some newspaper reports, but is one of about twenty-eight whose pictures resemble the man who held up Bank Manager Krug Cyphert. His medium build and weight of 155 pounds also meet the description.

The robbery occurred about noon, August 18. The bandit escaped with $11,776.

IT COULD HAPPEN HERE say many people on all sides as they read and hear about the flood experiences in the East. Small dams, dykes, dredged streams, no one of these, nor all of them, will prevent trouble from flash floods.

But a big dam, which will catch much of the run-off from a major portion of the area, would do much to reduce the damage, and probably would prevent the worst of it.

Proof of this can be found in the recent flood which has been termed the most disastrous in recorded Pennsylvania history. The water went to new records at Port Jervis, Belvidere, Stoddardsville, and Tannery.

Already it has been learned that enough water was impounded by existing dams to prevent an even worse disaster. The Pepacton and Neversink reservoirs above Port Jarvis impounded 25 billion gallons, and did much to protect that port and other downstream communities from more trouble.

Most startling disclosure is that the Rondout reservoir in the Hudson River watershed impounded seven billion gallons that combined with others to hold back 31 billion gallons. Had these not been stopped Manhattan would have been under seven feet of water!

And let's not overlook the fact that Maurice Goddard, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, reports that no large dams were washed out. Only a few small ones were affected. Anyone for small dams these days?

IF YOU HUNT, watch those early and late minutes. You can fire your first shot legally at 5:45 a. m. on October 1, and you must stop firing at 5:52. From there on the day grows a minute shorter at each end every twenty-four hours. By the time December 17 comes around your day starts at 7:06 and ends at 4:49. Ignoring that minute change a day might cost you the price of a goose.

BACK TO THE FLOODS we find one safe investment in the swamped area. That is government bonds. The treasury has a microfilm file of all Savings Bonds, and applications for lost bonds will be handled quickly, especially if the applicant states that money is needed for rehabilitation purposes. All such disasters bring thousands of requests for bond replacements.

DON'T BE SURPRISED IF

A Warren policeman or two leave the force very soon.

If you hear talk of an ice rink on Beatty this winter.

If drunks soon are tested by the intoximeter in Warren.

If you hear the Warren council talking about constructing a sewage plant. But first they have much storm sewer work to do. The entire bill could add up to a million? Is it worth it? Or is council just trying to beat the school board to the million dollar bond issue punch? Time for a planning commission, representing all the people, with a long range plan fitting all pocketbooks.

ONE NEW SOLDIER, Jerome J. Leonard, will leave Warren on Tuesday evening, September 6, for induction into the armed services at New Cumberland, Pa., the following day. Jerome is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Leonard, 9 W. Third ave., Warren. Seven other young men will undergo their pre-service examinations.

KIDDIES WILL PARADE in Youngsville on Saturday at 1:30 p. m. as part of the Youngsville Community Fair program. Ribbons will be awarded for winners in the four divisions; costumes, pets, decorated doll carriages, decorated bicycles. All entries must be twelve years of age or younger. The parade will form at 1:15 on N. Main st. All participants will receive an amusement ticket and an ice cream cone.

REGISTRATION DATE for those who want to attend the Jamestown Community College is September 13, from nine to five. If you live outside of New York state the tuition is $400. It is half that if you have resided in New York state for at least one year. Would be nice to have something like that in Warren.

ANOTHER KILLER APPROACHES this week-end when the long Labor Day holiday offers the last chance of the summer for motorists to commit wholesale mayhem. The average loss of life in Pennsylvania on Labor Day is thirteen. The Fourth of July average is sixteen, and for Memorial Day, twelve.

There is one good way to help prevent trouble. Try driving for the other fellow as well as for yourself. Assume he can't steer, doesn't know the traffic laws, is color blind, and never heard of a right of way.

Some passing motorist still may chase you over the side of a bank, but the odds will be lengthened in your favor.

INDIES BOOK SUNDAY

DOUBLE BILL IN WARREN
The Warren Independents have scheduled an unusual double header for next Sunday on War Memorial Field.

In the first game of the afternoon, which will begin at 2 p. m., the Indies will take on a baseball team of Old-Timers in a five inning contest. Players already contacted and who will play in the game are Steve Petrewski, "Cut" McCullough, Joe Massa, Steve Massa, Jim Rose, Ray Slate, Mike Solock, Nick Creola and Fred Gagliardi. Other former baseball players are being contacted and will play in the game.

In the second game of the afternoon, the Indies will take on a baseball team composed of Industrial softball league players. The Industrial team will be led by Billy Massa and will include Hal Brown, Billy Brown, Bob Hammerbeck, Chuck Irvin, Jack White and other Industrial softball performers.

ELKS SWEEP FIVE-GAME SERIES

The Warren Elks came up with a 4 to 0 verdict over the Warren Independents last night on the STATE Hospital diamond to take their fifth straight win of the five game series with the Indies.

The Elks sewed up the contest in the third inning when they scored two runs on a triple by Dallas Haight and singles by Harry Gnage and Kenny Thompson. The Elks scored their other 2 runs in the sixth inning.

Kenny Thompson went the route on the mound for the Elks and picked up his third win in the series by throwing 3-hit ball. Dallas Haight and Norm VanOrd both saw action behind the plate for the Elks.

Bruce Duell pitched the entire game for the Indies and chalked up 10 strikeouts in six innings on the hill. Dick Mancuso caught for the Indies.

BETTS LOSE AT MT. LEBANON

Betts, Cadet League champions in the Hot Stove League, stepped out of their class last Saturday when they traveled to Mt. Lebanon and were beaten, 14 to 5, by a group of older players. The same two teams will play a return game on the State Hospital diamond next Saturday afternoon.

FRESHMEN START PRACTICE

Freshmen football candidates turned out for practice this morning after receiving their equipment and physical examinations. The rest of the squad now has two full weeks of practice under their belts in preparation for the season opener at Corry, Friday night, September 9.

Next Monday afternoon the squad will play the annual intra-squad games on War Memorial Field.

TO SWIM LAKE CHAUTAUQUA

Pat Madden, Warren YMCA swimmer, will attempt to swim Lake Chautauqua when he competes in the Conquer Lake Chautauqua Swim sponsored by the Jamestown YMCA and Midway Park next Saturday, September 3.

The swimmers in the AAU affiliated swim will enter the water at Midway Beach and cross the Lake to Prendergast Point, a distance of 1 1/4 miles. The race will be Madden's first try at long distance swimming.

Each contestant is required to be accompanied by a rowboat, and Peter and Paul Bova of Warren will operate Madden's.

HOT STOVE UNIFORMS

All Hot Stove uniforms not yet handed in must be turned in before Monday, September 12. President John Carbon announced that boys who do not turn in their uniforms by that date will not be eligible to compete in Hot Stove League activity next year.

WILDCATS ELIMINATED

The Ludlow Wildcats were knocked out of the Penn-York league playoffs last Sunday when the Bradford Bruins scored 4 times in the first inning and went on to take the 'Cats, 6 to 3. The Bruins will now play the winner of the Jamestown Marlin-Rockwell-Salamanca Moose series for the league championship.

Bradford scored four runs in the first inning last Sunday on Holden's 4 walks, a wild pitch and only 2 hits. Then the winners scored two more times in the seventh inning on only one hit and 3 errors.

Kieth Holden started on the mound for Ludlow but was relieved by Terry Carll. John Juban caught for the 'Cats.

Next Sunday afternoon the Wildcats will take on the Warren Elks on Wildcat Park at 3 p. m. Ludlow will also play a Labor Day game at Wildcat Park but their opponent has not yet been announced.

KING AND HIS COURT DUMP WARREN ALL-STARS

King Eddie Feigner and his three teammates came to War Memorial Field last Tuesday night and toyed with a nine-man Warren all-star team in a six inning exhibition and took the local team, 8 to 6. The four men scored when they wanted to and pitcher Feigner allowed the Warren batters to hit the ball only when he wanted them to hit it. Had he bore down all the way only 18 batters would have got to the plate for Warren.

The King and His Court collected 9 hits to get their 8 runs. Short-stop Mike Meilicke hit the longest ball of the game, a home run which traveled to the fence in right field. Meilicke also hit a triple, his team's only other extra base hit. Eddie Feigner had three hits and firstbaseman Jerry Jones and catcher Meade Kinzer hit two singles.

For the All-Stars, Bubby Johnson had two hits, a double and a triple, in two trips to the plate. Don Baldensperger banged out a home run for Warren. Monk Murphy hit a triple, Rico Bonavita beat out a double, and Bill Massa and Blaine Jones had singles for Warren's 7 hits.

The highlight of the night was Feigner's pitching. Besides fanning 12 batters, he pitched strikes behind his back, through his legs, from second base and even blindfolded. When the ball came into the batter, it was liable to take off in any direction and leave the batter just creating a breeze with his bat. The game was watched by the largest crowd to assemble on War Memorial Field for a sporting event since last football season.

HOT STOVE MEETING

A short meeting of the Hot Stove League with very few persons in attendance was held at the YMCA last Tuesday night. At the meeting, improvements in administering the affairs of the League were discussed but no definite actions could be taken because of the small number present.

The next meeting of the Hot Stove League will be Tuesday, September 13, in the YMCA, at 7:30. This will be the last meeting of the Hot Stove League for the year and President John Carbon requests that all ward chairmen and team managers attend the meeting.

JONES AND TEXAS LUNCH FIGHT FOR TITLE

Jones' Chevrolet of Sheffield and Texas Lunch, first half Industrial league champion, have turned the race for the second half crown into a two-team affair. With some games left to be played and not all results turned in, Texas Lunch leads the loop with 9 wins and 2 losses, and Jones' Chevrolet is breathing right down their necks with 8 wins and 2 setbacks.

TEXAS LUNCH won twice during the week. They downed New Process, 5 to 1 behind the hurling of Bob Harrison. Monk Murphy led Texas batters in the game with 2 hits in 4 times at bat. The league leaders took Cersolsun, 6 to 1, to knock them out of the running for the second half crown. Gene Sweet threw a 3-hitter at Cersolsun.

NICK'S RESTAURANT pounded out 22 hits and shellacked the Merchants, 19 to 5. Stan Phelps was the winning pitcher. Ray Ritchie and Tony Bonavita hit home runs for the winners and Salerno hit a Merchant home run.

JONES CHEVROLET walloped Guiffre's, 16 to 2. In lower bracket action Thomas Coupling nipped Cersolsun, 8 to 7; edged New Process, 7 to 6, and shaded Guiffre's, 8 to 7.

GOLF ACTION

Play in the Conewango Valley Country Club golf championship flight has moved into the semi-finals. Tim Creal who got by Phil Pritchard and John Carter will meet Pete Juliano who defeated Dr. Yerg and Dr. Giunta in upper bracket play. The winner will be in the finals and will meet either Dr. Sedwick or Bill Rice who are in the lower bracket. Dr. Sedwick got there by ousting Harold Smith and Bob Walsh. Bill Rice moved in at the expense of Tony Creal and Kerm Vicander. Championship consolation play now puts Carter against Giunta and Walsh against Vicander, the winners meeting in the finals.

In the second flight Walt Dremann has taken Bud Kopf to move into the semi-finals where he awaits the winner of the Tom Atwell-Mark Nixon match. In the lower bracket Westy Ensworth has downed Dean Anderson and waits for Lloyd Cleveland and Homer Culbertson to play.

Frank Perrin has taken Heggsie Schmidt in the third and will play Norman Lundahl who got by Claude Schindler. Merle Rossell has defeated Devere Kirberger and will play Bill Lundahl or Bill Simonsen in the lower bracket semi.

Fourth to eighth flight action is stymied by unplayed marches which probably will shape up this week end so that semi-final and final decisions can be reached in the next seven days.

The Warren team visited Oil City Saturday and was clobbered. Best score posted by a Warren player was Dr. Giunta's 88. Low net winners were Neil Culbertson and Walt Dremann.

Tom Atwell had a 38 to lead the Thursday tournament. He also tied with Al Loranger at 31 for low net. Carl Lundahl had net 32, and tied at 33 were Dr. F. Ericsson and Charley Thompson.

John Trevenen won the CVCC hole-in-one contest with a pitch one foot, six inches away from the pin. Kerm Vicander was second, three feet, eight inches, and Park Catchpole was third at four, two.

Today the golfers are having a par, birdie, eagle contest. Labor Day they will play a mixed two ball foursome, and next Thursday they will limit prizes to those who have not won in previous events.

Sixty turned out for the final tournament of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Women's Golf association, at Titusville, Friday. Mrs. W. Q. Lawson and Mrs. Lyle Knapp tied for low net for the field with net 77. Other winners in their foursomes were Mrs. Homer Culbertson, Mrs. Grace Fisher, Mrs. Robert Voigt, Mrs. M. G. Keller, Mrs. Robert Walsh, Mrs. W. C. Fuellhart, Mrs. David Beaty, Mrs. Andrew Paucek, and Mrs. Richard Costley.

In this week's local tournament Mrs. Robert Voigt was low gross with 91, and she also won the special event and low net in division one. Other division one winners were Mrs. Robert Walsh and Mrs. W. O. Lawson.

Mrs. J. H. Sugarman was division two winner, and the low nets went to Mrs. J. H. Kannen, Guin Knapp, Mrs. Lyle Knapp, and Mrs. Marion Pettegrew.

Mrs. P. H. Pritchard was division three winner, and the low net honors went to Mrs. Jeral Angove and Mrs. T. E. Gannoe.

Communal Living

By Doris Fleeson

MAAYAN ZVAI, Israel. -- The communal, collective settlements, the famous kibbutzim of Israel are a gold mine for sociologists, a paradise for writers of human interest stories, invaluable source material for historians and a must for visiting reporters. They have an additional fascination for Americans who are curious and empirical people. Kibbutzim appeal because they are different and because they work.

Reporters find that kibbutzim helped shape the politicians who run the country and that they are still a force. Though their share of the total agricultural product is diminishing as the country grows, more are constantly being formed.

Their appeal is largely to young people. The communal goal attracts youthful idealism. Their peculiar suitability to the troubled Israel borders and the difficult reclamation of the arid Negev also brings them the young who have the pioneer spirit, what Conrad has called "the fire of youth, the glamour of youth."

Generally speaking middle-aged or older immigrants prefer the risks of individual holdings or jobs. It has been found, however, that urbanized Jewish immigrants bound for agriculture do better in kibbutzim.

The conditions in kibbutzim vary greatly, though the communal property and collective effort are common to all. Some are religious; some in the old time Socialist manner have no formal religion at all, and have only a day of rest. The long established Kibbutz may be a large, semi-industrialized affair with senior members, only two families in each house, baths and elegant dining hall, library and rest rooms.

A Negev kibbutz reproduces the original Zionist pioneer. It probably has tents; if cabins, they are dreary and sun-baked. Yet the members can look back to the malarial swamps in which such men as Prime Minister Ben-Gurion set up his tents and they believe that one day, they will have their place in the sun.

It is not accidental that Ben-Gurion's chosen place of contemplation is a Negev kibbutz. He believes in its values with intense sincerity and deliberately sets an example for the coming generation.

The 19th century socialism which produced the kibbutzim is extinct everywhere else in the world though it has been tried often. The United States had its Brook Farm, Oneida Community and others. Here it seems to have a flexibility rarely associated with doctrinaire theories.

It was rather amusing for example to hear a Swiss-born leader of a prosperous, industrialized kibbutz list his greatest problems as "working capital and human nature" in that order. Like a U. S. farmer, he found the bankers restricting his credit which was hurting his expansion. The human problems which to an American would seem omnipresent and overwhelming, he could put second.

The attractive, brunette American, Sylvia Bailes Levy, from Brooklyn who guides Americans over this kibbutz found in it a greater freedom, she said, than at home. She had gone to a Quaker school and lived in Quaker communities. There, if you quarreled or did something the community disliked, you were visited by a delegation to discuss the error of your ways, she explained. In the kibbutz you did your work but you were free. Nobody lectured you.

The no-wage, no-profit aspect is the principal economic departure of the kibbutz. Its major social departure is that the children do not live with their parents. They live together in separate homes with nurses and housemaids assigned to them as well as teachers. As they grow older they share the work in increasing amount.
